

ABSTRACT

Methods for the long-term leasing by a company of a plurality of properties, two or 5 more of which are separately owned by identifying each property to be leased; and tendering to each property owner an offer to lease each property for a term of years with a lump sum payment as consideration.